Scientists have finally seen what could not have been seen ? a black hole. As fascinating is the fact that we can now see? a black hole, the story behind this achievement is even more fascinating.

It?s a story of victory of science in the political era of science denials. It?s a victory of diversity in the era of homophobia and sexism. It?s a victory of free software in the era of?well, we live in the era of free software.
