

Five best screen recorders for Linux

By Roy Schestowitz

Created 20/10/2019 - 1:06am

Submitted by Roy Schestowitz on Sunday 20th of October 2019 01:06:38 AM Filed under Software [1]

Screen recording comes in handy when creating a video tutorial, recording gameplay, live streaming or even something cool you just did and want to showcase it to others. Uses of a screen recorder are diverse and there are a ton of reasons to have one installed on your PC. In this article, we will provide a brief overview of five best screen recorders for Linux which include some basic as well as some advanced screen recorders.

[2]

Software

Source URL: <http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/129487>

Links:

[1] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/38>

[2] https://net2.com/five-best-screen-recorders-for-

linux/?utm_source=rss&utm_medium=rss&utm_campaign=five-best-screen-recorders-for-linux