Following Kévin here?s the summary of what happened around KDE PIM in the last two months. While this post got slightly delayed due to the holidays, work didn?t slow down at all. More than 1300 changes by 26 contributors landed in the KDE PIM repositories, and we got the 19.12.0 release out in December.

KUserFeedback is a framework for collecting user feedback for applications via telemetry and surveys.

The library comes with an accompanying control and result UI tool.
