If you were plucky enough to pre-order a PinePhone Brave Heart edition last month you may be interested to know that devices start shipping from January 17, 2020.

Yes, this week!

Pine64?s Lukasz Erecinski shares the date in the company?s latest monthly update, explaining: ?We?re now ready [?] to confirm that PinePhones will begin shipping ?on January 17th 2020. The dispatch process will take a couple of days, however, so your unit may ship on the 20th or 25th. At any rate, you?ll have your PinePhone soon?.

The handsets are being shipped through a company called Asendia who, Erecinski says, offer a good balance of shipping times (important to buyers) and cost (important to Pine64, who don?t exactly make huge profits all on this tech).
