5 Best Video Conferencing Apps For Linux

By Roy Schestowitz
Created 15/05/2021 - 7:09pm
Submitted by Roy Schestowitz on Saturday 15th of May 2021 07:09:32 PM Filed under Software [1]

Video conferencing used to be a thing in some tech companies, but it wasn’t a big deal until recently. With COVID-19 locking people into their homes, video conferencing became the need of the hour. One app, in particular, gained quite a lot of traction before big names like Microsoft could video conferencing to their own apps. The pandemic isn’t over yet and even so, work from home is going to be the new life for many professionals. If you still haven’t settled on which app to use, here are the best video conferencing apps for Linux to make group video calls.

If you want some great apps, you should also try these great apps for macOS and Windows that are available for Linux.

[2]

Software

Source URL: http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/151211

Links: