GUADEC 2021 is the second conference to take place online as a virtual event instead of a physical venue, and that's because the COVID-19 pandemic is still affecting us. However, the best part about virtual conferences is that it won't cost you a dime and you can join from the comfort of your living room.

GUADEC 2021 is for shaping up the future of the GNOME desktop environment, especially the upcoming GNOME 41 release, as GNOME users and developers from all over the world will gather together to share their knowledge and discuss the new features and changes.
