

Open-source document standard submitted to standards body

By srlinuxx

Created 11/10/2005 - 2:57pm

Submitted by srlinuxx on Tuesday 11th of October 2005 02:57:51 PM Filed under OSS [1]

The Organisation for the Advancement of Structured Information Standards (Oasis), which is behind OpenDocument, said it has submitted the standard to the International Organisation for Standardisation (ISO).

OpenDocument is a document format for storing data from desktop applications such as word processors, spreadsheets and presentation software.

The standard is used by the open-source OpenOffice.org desktop collaboration suite.

Full Blurb [2].

OSS

Source URL: <http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/3003>

Links:

[1] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/72>

[2] <http://www.computerweekly.com/Articles/2005/10/11/212259/Open-sourcedocumentstandardsubmittedtostandardsbody.htm>