I'm a novice and did many things (esp the latter half) according to my instinct/intuition and was not guided by any tutorial.

If anyone else faced the same problem and solved it in a different way, Please let me know. If any pro's or Ubuntu/Linux Gurus find this stupid, please educate me further.

Recently I faced the first battle arising from the conflict between Windows and Linux. Thanks to Linux, I won it .Let me give you a brief history of the problem.
