

Red Hat Prevails in Federal District Court

By srlinuxx

Created 01/05/2010 - 3:30am

Submitted by srlinuxx on Saturday 1st of May 2010 03:30:37 AM Filed under Linux [1] Legal [2]

Red Hat, Inc. announced that today a jury in federal court in Marshall, Texas, returned a verdict in favor of Red Hat, Inc. and Novell, Inc. in a case alleging patent infringement brought by IP Innovation LLC, a subsidiary of Acacia Research Corporation and Technology Licensing Corporation.

The patents at issue were found to be invalid and worthless.

"This is the result we expected and we are gratified that the jury recognized the tremendous innovative value of open source software. The jury knocked out three invalid patents that were masquerading as a new and important inventions, when they were not," said Michael Cunningham, Executive Vice President at Red Hat. "We appreciate the jury's wisdom and remain committed to providing value to our customers, including through our Open Source Assurance program. We also remain stalwart in resisting bogus shakedown tactics."

not really much more here [3]

Linux Legal

Source URL: <http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/44904>

Links:

[1] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/63>

[2] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/106>

[3] <http://www.marketwatch.com/story/red-hat-prevails-in-federal-district-court-2010-04-30>