

10 famous domains before they were big

By srlinuxx

Created 05/03/2013 - 9:26pm

Submitted by srlinuxx on Tuesday 5th of March 2013 09:26:05 PM Filed under Web [1]

In today's branded world, it is almost impossible to imagine a company that does not own the domain associated with their name or brand. But several of today's famous domains had a very different use before they were big.

For example, did you know that iCloud.com once was the personal homepage of a Japanese professor?

When 'Android' was sci-fi 'Android.com'

There was a time when the word 'Android' referred to a robot with a human appearance and not an operating system. At that time, 'Android Creativity' was the company behind Android.com.

rest here [2]

Web

Source URL: <http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/59775>

Links:

[1] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/103>

[2] <http://royal.pingdom.com/2013/03/05/famous-domains/>