

New Fedora Leader, Open Source Security, and Saving TrueCrypt

By Rianne Schestowitz

Created 04/06/2014 - 6:30am

Submitted by Rianne Schestowitz on Wednesday 4th of June 2014 06:30:35 AM Filed under -s [1]

In today's Linux news, a new project manager is named for Fedora. Nick Heath says Open Source is more secure because of a "heightened focus on quality controls." And a team of developers are trying to save TrueCrypt one way or another.

[2]

-s

Source URL: <http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/66314>

Links:

[1] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/102>

[2] <http://ostatic.com/blog/new-fedora-leader-open-source-security-and-saving-truecrypt#buzz>