

5 open access journals for open source enthusiasts

By Roy Schestowitz

Created 21/10/2014 - 8:04am

Submitted by Roy Schestowitz on Tuesday 21st of October 2014 08:04:35 AM Filed under OSS [1]

The ever rising cost of academic journals is a major burden for researchers. Academic libraries cannot always keep up with increases in subscription fees causing libraries to drop journals from their collection. This makes it harder for students and professors to quickly and easily access the information they need. Inter-library loan requests are an option but they do take time. Even if it only takes a few days to fill an inter-library loan request, that is still time wasted for a researcher that has a deadline. While there is no single, quick fix to the problem with the academic journal prices, there is a movement applying the open source way to academic research in an attempt to solve the problem?the open access movement.

[2]

OSS

Source URL: <http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/70144>

Links:

[1] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/72>

[2] <http://opensource.com/education/14/10/5-open-access-journals-open-source-enthusiasts>