LinuxQuestions.org (http://www.linuxquestions.org/) is proud to announce the official release of LQ Radio (http://radio.linuxquestions.org/). The first installment of the LQ Radio Show has been posted (http://radio.linuxquestions.org/2005/05/lq-radio-episode-1.html).

The LQ Radio Show will feature LinuxQuestions.org founder Jeremy Garcia, along with a rotating panel of LQ mods, discussing the latest in Linux and Open Source. Moving forward, the show will also feature live guests from the Linux and Open Source Community. The LQ Radio site is also home to the LQ Radio interview series and the LinuxQuestions.org Podcasts (http://radio.linuxquestions.org/linux/lq-podcasts/).

"The LQ Radio show is a logical extension of our podcasts and is something we've gotten a lot of positive feedback on. It's great to have the first show live and I look forward to future shows", said Jeremy Garcia, LinuxQuestions.org Founder.

About LinuxQuestions.org:
